

New Year, New games.

By Louie THREADGOULD,

Fortnite:

Fortnite Battle Royale is a free, 100 player battle royale game (a game where it is last man standing wins) which since last Autumn has boomed in popularity. In this game you skydive off a battle bus (which is a flying bus) and land anywhere in the large map. You collect loot and weapons and battle other online players in the fight to be the last man/woman standing.

Recently Fortnite has launched battle pass season 3. In this Battle pass you work your way up tiers by gathering stars from challenges. These tiers include cosmetic rewards such as costumes, and emotes.

This boom in popularity in Fortnite is much due to the fact that the game is free and paying is completely optional.

A tally shows that Fortnite is much more preferred in Crawshaw Academy than its rival "Player unknowns battle ground" which is a game of a similar category

Sea of thieves:

Sea of thieves is an open-world multiplayer pirate themed action/adventure game developed by rare games. In this game you explore the world and life of a pirate: you can drive a pirate ship, navigate, find treasure, shoot cannons climb the crow's nest and do anything that pirates did in the age which includes sinking enemy ships. This game has been awaited by fans for ages and can currently be pre-ordered for 50 pounds. The arguable question is “is it worth it?” and “will it be a hit”

Cuphead:

Cuphead is a “Mario” styled run and gun game made by studioMDHR which is a relatively small game company. One or two players can fight a series of bosses across a storyline. Cuphead was heavily inspired by Betty Boop. The creators of this game decided to go with that style because it was nostalgic to their childhood along with many other fans childhood. This game has recently boomed with popularity due to its almost extinct style of game.
