

Year 11 Mathematics Homework January 2025 to May 2025

Before Christmas we completed 5 exam papers that were the first half of a proper exam paper. We are now getting close to finishing the course content and so we are now able to practice FULL exam papers. This is the best revision for mathematics – research says that the best way to revise for mathematics is to complete questions.

Here are some important reminders for effective revision:

- Little and often: It is more beneficial to spend 20 minutes each day doing practice questions than to leave it all until Sunday and try to do two hours in one go.
- Attempt every question: If you are unsure about any topics, use resources like Sparx Maths or search online for help.
- Show all your work: In exams, you earn method marks for each step in your solution, so it is important to show your calculations and reasoning clearly.

We will be assigning full exam papers every two weeks. This gives you one week to complete the paper and another week for us to review it in class. This will help you identify your strengths and areas where you need more revision.

Sparx Maths tasks will still be given weekly. This covers our Y10 scheme of work and so is a great way to revise the content from last year.
